

Nedo Bellucci

AUTHOR · DESIGNER · CREATIVE DIRECTOR · ENTREPRENEUR

ABOUT A practitioner of the systems behind performance, presence, and lasting impact. Nedo Bellucci is an author, designer, creative director, entrepreneur, former Fashion Institute of Technology professor (2014–2022), and performance coach. His work began in mental performance and sales coaching before moving to New York City in 2004, then grew across bespoke menswear, design, education, and client advisory. He brings a distinctive perspective on how people allocate finite time, build performance, make choices, and become visible in the world.

Presence is a system.

Talks that translate purpose, finite time, performance, and presence into a clearer way of operating.

- The Code of Presence: How the invisible operating system shapes the life we live and the legacy we leave.
- Finite Time, Enduring Impact: Directing a limited resource toward deliberate contribution.
- The Psychology of How We Show Up: What perception, proportion, choice, and behavior reveal about presence.
- Performance by Design: Moving from automatic patterns to intentional allocation.
- Presence Beyond Appearance: The relationship between internal systems and external expression.
